

Powered by NOISE and What's ON

ADVERTISEMENT

"The proponents of net neutrality also understate the costs of regulation ... [making] it harder to raise capital to build the next generation of superfast Internet pipes, capable of delivering high-quality video."

— Washington Post Editorial, 3/13/06

Legislating "Net Neutrality" is a Bad Idea.

Published February 16, 2006

Michigan made film to premiere April 6

'Kalamazoo?' to open in Kalamazoo, five other cities

Associated Press

A hometown premiere is planned for a movie filmed in Kalamazoo and produced by two sisters who grew up in the southwestern Michigan city.

"Kalamazoo?" will premiere April 6, co-producer Joanna Clare Scott said this week.

On April 7, it will open in limited release in Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Holland, Grand Haven, Lowell and Three Rivers at theaters operated by Grand Rapids-based Goodrich Quality Theaters Inc., which also owns the Lansing Mall 6.

Related news from the Web

Latest headlines by topic:

- Mayim Bialik
- Josie Davis

Powered by Topix.net

Advertisement

MORTGAGE RATES NEAR RECORD LOWS

Get today's lowest mortgage rate with us and save $1000s. As featured in USA Today and Newsweek.

www.lowermybills.com

The movie, filmed during summer 2004, follows three women in their late 20s who return to Kalamazoo for their 10-year high school reunion.

Scott also wrote the script and plays one of the three female leads. The other two are Mayim Bialik, star of television's "Blossom," and Josie Davis of "Beverly Hills, 90210."

Also appearing in the film are British actress Claire Bloom, Tony Award-winning singer-dancer-actress Chita Rivera and Dee Wallace-Stone, who played the mother in "E.T."

Scott and her sister, Dana E. Kowalski, independently produced the movie through their company, Londinium Productions Inc.

Learn more about the film at www.kalamazoothemovie.com.